Improving the bottom line

With supply chains under strain, smart usage of free trade agreements can deliver a crucial 2-4% boost to net profits.

Cut admin and duty payments

Agility is key. As supply chains adapt to disruptions, a swift and efficient approach to customs compliance is essential to maximize the gains from free trade agreements.

Agility in compliance

The transformation comes from a new perspective on free trade compliance. Firstly, this agile approach acknowledges the imperfections in supplier and ERP data, actively working towards data integrity and guiding efforts to acquire accurate data from suppliers. Secondly, by automating routine tasks, it frees up expert time for higher-level strategic initiatives.

Transform with JOE

This is where JOE comes in. JOE offers a fast and approachable API and web application for determining and optimizing preferential origin to help your company benefit from free trade agreements.
